

Going for Gold - Just the Beginning

Professor Tom Welton, Imperial College London

SAGE is thrilled to present Professor Tom Welton who led the Chemistry Department at Imperial College London to achieve an Athena SWAN Gold award in 2013.

Professor Welton will discuss the work done in the Chemistry Department on valuing diversity and enabling all of the department's members to reach their full potential, regardless of who they are. He will ask the audience to be actively involved in the discussion, to bring their own experiences and ideas and to steer the conversation into the areas that are most important to them.

Date: Monday 16th January 2017

Time: 2:00 - 3:00pm

Location: Woolnough Lecture Theatre—First Floor Room 107
Geography & Geology Building at The University of Western Australia

