Balancing Life and University
MONDAY 21 JULY
You’ve succeeded in getting here, but how do you balance your personal life with the demands of study, adjust to the change and make it all work? Come along to this two-hour workshop to find out how to manage it all as you begin this new and exciting journey. This workshop is designed to be fun and interactive, as well as informative, focusing on topics such as personally adjusting to transition, goal setting and time and stress management. Booking is essential.

Living in Perth Program for international and relocating students
THURSDAY 17 JULY
The Living in Perth Program covers vital information about getting settled and living in Perth. This session is recommended for all international students (including exchange and Study Abroad) and students relocating from rural WA or interstate who are unfamiliar with living in Perth.

It includes sessions on using public transport, personal safety and the health system. You will hear first hand information and experiences from students about living and having fun in Perth when you are not studying. You will find out about the support and welfare services available for students at ECU. Specifically for international students, there will be information regarding your visa that governs your stay in Australia, and overseas health cover. Booking is essential.

Following the Living in Perth session, Assisted Enrolment Sessions are taking place for international students. Staff will be available to assist you with choosing and enrolling in your units, seeking advanced standing and understanding course structures. Please check the orientation website www.ecu.edu.au/student/orientation/participate/induction to find out when and where your course specific assisted enrolment session is taking place.

It is very important that you attend this session, and ensure that you have original or certified copies of all academic transcripts (translated into English if necessary) if you wish to apply for advanced standing.

For sessions that indicate booking is essential, please book online at www.ecu.edu.au/student/orientation

Academic skills workshops
Each semester the Learning Centre presents workshops that will help you with specific aspects of your assignments to try and help you improve your marks – referencing, essay and assignment writing, oral presentations, etc. These are typically one, two or three-hour interactive presentations. Some sessions are available in the evenings and on Saturdays. And they are free! For an updated list of academic skills workshops check the Learning Centre’s website at: www.ecu.edu.au/student/student-learning/workshops.php

Information Communication Technology (ICT) workshops
A series of ICT computer sessions will also be available in Semester 2 to ease your way with computers and your Information Technology environment. These will be ICT workshops on specific topics, such as using Blackboard, Word, Excel (graphs and formulae) and Powerpoint presentations. There will also be drop-in sessions for quick and immediate help for specific questions you have as you work on an assignment. Sessions are listed separately in the Learning Centre’s website at: www.ecu.edu.au/student/student-learning/workshops.php
Welcome Centre

Your School Induction Session contains important course information, providing specific details of your course study requirements, booklist, unit advice, practicum requirements (if applicable) and an opportunity to meet staff and students in your School. It is very important that students new to ECU attend this session.

The majority of School inductions have been co-ordinated to occur on the same day as Welcome Day, Tuesday 22 July for the Joondalup campus. Session times are listed below by course code, which is the 3-digit code shown at the top of your Offer Notification. If you do not know your course code please contact Student Central on 134 328 or email: studentcentral@ecu.edu.au, or ask one of the staff at the Welcome Centre who will be happy to assist. If your course code is not listed below, your School Induction may be taking place on either Mount Lawley or Bunbury Campus.
