

ECU Business Flashlight Asian Engagement: Strategy for Western Australia

Edith Cowan University's School of Business and Law invites you to the ECU Business Flashlight, a regular forum for researchers and practitioners to engage in collaborative dialogue with industry and government on relevant issues in business and management.

The relationship between Western Australia and its Asian partners has long been crucial. The relationship between Western Australia and Asia is formed not only from trade relations but also from socio-cultural ties. Many residents in Western Australia are from Asia, and the proximity of this state from Asia makes Western Australia a strategic link to connect Asia with Australia. With the continued growth of the market in Asia, many opportunities can be pursued and utilised by Western Australia. In this regard, this state requires the right strategy to be able to take advantage of these great opportunities.

Keynote Speaker: Hon Minister Peter Tinley AM MLA, BA, MDefStud is the WA Minister for Housing, Veterans Issues, Youth, and Asian Engagement. Peter enlisted in the Army as a soldier in 1980, and in 1990 he graduated first in class and Queen's Medallist from the Royal Military College Duntroon. He has a Bachelors Degree in Professional Studies (Management) from the University of New England and a Master of Arts in Defence Studies with the Canberra University.

Peter served 17 of his 25 years in the Army with the Special Air Service Regiment. During this time, Peter participated and commanded an extensive number of operations globally culminating in his final appointment as the SAS Chief Operations Officer from 2001 to 2004. He was the lead tactical planner for Australia's Special Forces contribution to both the Afghanistan and Iraq campaigns. In these later operations, he was appointed as the Deputy Commander of the Joint Special Forces Task Group.
