ECU recognises the achievements of a remarkable Western Australian woman, Edith Dirksey Cowan.

Edith Cowan OBE believed that education was fundamental to tackling the social issues of the day, and that it was the key to growth, change and improvement. Her tireless work influenced the course of education in Australia, paving the way for many people to access education they could only previously dream of.

In 1921, Edith Cowan was the first woman elected to an Australian Parliament. She was also instrumental in Western Australian women obtaining voting rights and expanding access to education, and many professions, to females.

Edith Cowan’s portrait is in the Western Australian Art Gallery and also adorns the Australian $50 note.

PERTH’S NEW REGIONAL STATUS – MORE OPPORTUNITIES FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

In 2019, the Australian Federal Government awarded ‘regional city status’ to Perth in Western Australia.

As an international student, that means you may be eligible to stay in Western Australia for three to five years after completing your degree.

A post-study work visa may give you the opportunity to gain more work experience and you could be eligible for skills assessments required for a skilled visa application.

Perth’s new regional city status will offer these opportunities to international students:
• Access to additional regional migration points
• Family Sponsorship
• Additional year of post study work rights
• Opportunity for scholarships valued up to $15,000 to support study and living expenses at our beautiful South West Campus. (Not available for Perth study).

Please note: there could be changes as this initiative is formally implemented by Western Australian and Federal government departments.

WHY STUDY NURSING AND MIDWIFERY AT ECU?

WA'S ONLY DUAL NURSING & MIDWIFERY DEGREE

OUTSTANDING HEALTH AND WELLNESS FACILITIES
Our state-of-the-art health and wellness building incorporates high and low fidelity simulated practice wards for both nursing and midwifery that provide a safe, authentic environment for clinical skills development. These provide students with the opportunity for experiential hands-on practice to learn skills in a variety of simulated scenarios, designed to increase the competence and confidence of students. The wards include 66 beds on the Joondalup Campus and 23 beds on the South West Campus that simulate the real world healthcare environment, and dedicated midwifery practice areas.

MUMS ADOPTING MIDWIFERY STUDENTS (MAMS) PROGRAM
To consolidate the theory learnt in the classroom and to understand expectant and new parents’ experiences of having a baby, all midwifery students participate in our Mothers Adopting Midwifery Students (MAMS) program. The MAMS program pairs students with pregnant women for their mutual benefit. Students assist throughout the pregnancy all the way through to the first few weeks after childbirth. The program offers invaluable learning opportunities outside of a ‘typical’ classroom setting, where students can develop both their clinical and interpersonal skills.

2020 INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE NURSE AND THE MIDWIFE
Nurses and midwives are the backbone of health systems around the world. They’re often the first and only point of care in their communities, providing comfort, reassurance and competent assessments – from childbirth to elderly care and everything in between.

In fact, nurses and midwives make up nearly 50% of the global health workforce. However, the World Health Organisation says we need 9 million more nurses and midwives to achieve universal health coverage by 2030.

That is why 2020 has been declared the International Year of the Nurse and the Midwife. Fittingly, 2020 also marks the 200th year birth anniversary of Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing.

ECU is using this opportunity to celebrate the achievements of nurses and midwives and the impact they make to so many lives around the world every day.
When it comes to studying computing, security, science and the environment, ECU’s teaching and research facilities are world-class.

You’ll find a range of practical degrees that can lead to distinctly different careers in fields such as biology, bioinformatics, cyber security, counter terrorism security, physics, information technology, environmental science and management, chemistry, mathematics, data science, sustainability and more.

PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE PLACEMENTS

Professional practice placement is a requirement of Pre-Service Teachers in nationally accredited teacher education programs. A substantial amount of time is spent in schools as part of professional practice and requires a full-time commitment for all Pre-Service Teachers in a full-time or part-time study program.

To undertake a professional practice in a school or childcare setting, all Pre-Service Teachers must supply ECU with evidence of a valid Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Check (NCCHC) from the Department of Education WA, and a valid Working with Children Check from the Department for Child Protection and Family Support WA. Visit ecu.edu.au/schools/education/professional-practice/clearances for more information.

PARTNERS IN LITERACY AND NUMERACY

Partners in Literacy and Numeracy (PLaN) is an ECU School of Education initiative that allows Pre-Service Teachers to provide support to local Western Australian schools to deliver their literacy and numeracy programs. This will allow ECU Pre-Service Teachers to gain extra experience and exposure to a classroom environment beyond the mandatory practicum placements. ECU has a growing number of partnerships with schools throughout metro Western Australia to deliver the PLaN initiative.

DIVERSITY IN EDUCATION

Our ongoing relationships and established partnerships with public and private schools and pre-school centres, in both local and regional areas of Western Australia, will allow you to gain experience with children with diverse learning abilities and from differing economic, social, ethnic and educational circumstances.

OUR RESEARCH PROFILE
Edith Cowan University (ECU) conducts world-class research that makes a difference, focusing on people, partnerships and results.
As part of the vibrant community at ECU, our researchers help to transform lives and change the world for the better.
Examples of our ground-breaking research include:
• Early melanoma detection through a blood test
• Exercise as medicine for cancer patients
• Metal filtration to improve wastewater quality
• Biometric security system for smartphones
• Seagrass sequestration as an indicator for climate change
• Full blood count analysis for detecting Haemochromatosis
You can explore these projects and more at ecuworldclass.com

MELANOMA RESEARCH
ECU researchers have developed the world’s first blood test capable of detecting melanoma in its early stages. This breakthrough will save thousands of lives, as well as millions of dollars for the health system.
Australia has the second-highest rate of melanoma in the world, with 14,000 new diagnoses and almost 2000 deaths each year. Lead researcher Pauline Zaenker (pictured centre below) said identifying melanoma early was the best way to prevent these deaths.
"Patients who have their melanoma detected in its early stage have a five year survival rate between 90 and 99 per cent, whereas if it’s not caught early and it spreads around the body, the five year survival rate drops to less than 50 per cent," she said.
"This is what makes this blood test so exciting as a potential screening tool, because it can pick up melanoma in its very early stages when it is still treatable."

Coming to university is like visiting a new country – it has its own language. And while we don’t expect you to become fluent in that language – what we call ‘uni-speak’ – it’s not a bad idea for you to become familiar with some of the things we cover here.

Advance Standing
Recognises your prior learning or training and can allow you to reduce the number of units you need to study to be awarded your ECU qualification.

ATAR
The Australian Tertiary Admission Rank, which is the primary criterion for entry into most undergraduate university courses for domestic students. International students are assessed for entry to undergraduate courses with an ATAR equivalent.

Bachelor degree
A qualification that requires three or four years of full-time.

CRICOS
CRICOS is the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students. A CRICOS code is allocated to education institutions (like ECU) who are approved to recruit, enrol and deliver education to overseas students.

Double degree program
Double degrees normally require four or five years of full-time concurrent study for two awards in a wide range of disciplines. Double degrees are available in selected areas only and incorporate study in two different fields, e.g. Bachelor of Science / Bachelor of Commerce.

Double major
Studies undertaken in two major unit sets under one degree. Some course structures specify double major requirements; other course structures allow for students to undertake a second major unit set of their choice.

Duration
The minimum amount of time required to complete a course. This is based on full-time study, unless the course is only available to be studied part-time.

eLab
A general computer lab for ECU students that has both PCs and Macs. It holds over 100 computer programs that support the courses taught at ECU. Printing, scanning and photocopying facilities are also available in the eLabs on all of our campuses.

Full-Time Study
If you’re enrolled in three or more units in a semester, this is considered full-time study. To complete most three-year degrees studying full-time, you’ll need to complete four units per semester (i.e. 24 units over three years). To meet your student visa requirements, international students on student visas need to be enrolled full-time at university.

Graduate Certificate
A qualification that requires a minimum of six months of full-time.

Honours degree
Degree courses taken with Honours require advanced study of up to one year full-time following the first three years of a Bachelor course.

Major
A set of units within a course that focus on a specified discipline, e.g. a Bachelor of Arts with a major in English.

Masters
A qualification that requires one, one-and-a-half, or two years of full-time.

Minor
A smaller set of units (normally six), which focus on a specified discipline.

Online study
Study undertaken externally or online.

Overseas Student Health Cover
International students on student visas need to pay Overseas Student Health Cover when paying the tuition fees applicable for the first semester. This is a compulsory and basic insurance product, covering emergency medical conditions, public hospitals and most of the cost of visiting a doctor.

Postgraduate student
A student pursuing a Graduate Certificate, Graduate Diploma, Masters, or Doctor of Philosophy.

Practicum
A part of a course providing learning experiences outside the University in a relevant professional setting, such as a school or hospital.

Practicum Placement
A practical, workplace experience required as part of your studies. During your practicum placement, you’re expected to meet the same work conditions as a normal member of staff. You won’t be paid for your practicum work, but it’s a great way to add to your CV and to build networks in your chosen field. It can also lead to employment after you graduate.

Prerequisite
Some study units have conditions of enrolment attached to them. If your unit has a prerequisite, you’ll need to have completed and passed this other ‘prerequisite’ unit prior to being able to enrol in or commence your unit.

School
Title given to academic organisational units within the University, e.g. School of Science.

Semester
The name given to the two standard teaching periods (Semester One and Semester Two) in the academic year.

Undergraduate student
A student pursuing a Diploma, Advanced Diploma, Associate Degree, Bachelor Degree or Honours.

Unit
Basic component of study normally comprising a weekly lecture and tutorial. A unit can be a foundation/core unit, major or minor unit, or elective unit.
