

WITHOUT CONSENT

Affirmative consent is when the verbal and physical cues a person is giving you show that they are comfortable, consenting and keen. A kiss doesn't mean a 'yes' to anything else – it's all about the proactive asking and giving of consent between people. A "no" is still a 'no', but the absence of an enthusiastic and ongoing "yes" is a 'no' as well.

ecu.edu.au/be-a-better-human