Biography

Olivia Colja is in her ninth year of solo and group exhibitions. She has a Diploma of Business, Bachelor of Social Science and a Bachelor Contemporary Arts. Colja has directed, curated and exhibited in WOMXN for the past three years. WOMXN is a group show supporting and celebrating women and non-binary artists to showcase artwork about their experiences as women. Prior to WOMXN, Colja exhibited in 2018 Unseen for Inclusive Arts Week at Lawrence Wilson Art Gallery featuring works that were tactile and were made inclusive and accessible audiences. Colja currently works as a Youth Worker for Ishaar Multicultural Women's Health Service and is dedicated to empowering the boarder community through art and advocacy.

Artist Statement

Nurturing her garden since the first lock down when two of her grandparents passed, Day & Night explores themes of grief and grace. Watching plants die away and come back in full bloom and expressing this through the medium of paint, conveying emotions kept private.
