

LAYING THE FOUNDATIONS FOR KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS

THAT'S HOW UNIVERSITY SHOULD BE

ECU's Rock Solid Foundations at the Mount Lawley Campus represents the notion of education being the foundation that shapes our future. The Western Australian granite pillars symbolise the foundations upon which one builds during their education journey. The combination of polished and natural surfaces reflects the journey from study to graduation. The seven pillars honour the Nyoongar story of the "Seven Sisters" constellation and are placed accordingly. Facing north, the pillars indicate the location of the constellation, and as you leave Kurongkurl Katitjin, you see the names of past Indigenous graduates who have led the way, inspiring others to follow in their footsteps.

For details, call 134 ECU (134 328), email rocksolid@ecu.edu.au or visit our website.

ecu.edu.au/alumni

★★★★★ TEACHING QUALITY
★★★★★ GRADUATE SATISFACTION
The Good Universities Guide 2013

If you, or someone you know graduated from Edith Cowan University or its predecessors*, we would love to hear from you.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Graduate Update Form

NOTE: By completing this form, you agree to ECU contacting you regarding future Alumni activity and events.

Return completed form to rocksolid@ecu.edu.au or by mail at Edith Cowan University, Kurongkurl Katitjin Bradford Street, MT LAWLEY WA 6050

Title  Surname

Given Name/s  Gender  M  F

Name at Graduation (if different)

Date of Birth  Student # (if known)

Qualification  Year

Qualification  Year

Address

Phone  Mobile

Email

Do you have? (tick all that apply)  Facebook  Twitter  Linked In  Other

*This includes Claremont Teachers College, Graylands Teachers College, the Western Australian Secondary Teachers College, Nedlands College of Advanced Education, Mount Lawley Teachers College, Churchlands Teachers College or the merged Western Australian College of Advanced Education.